WELCOME

Dear Colleagues,

On behalf of the Steering Committee of the 7th International Symposium on Paediatric Inflammatory Bowel Disease (PIBD 2025) and ESPGHAN, it is our pleasure to invite you to join and contribute through your in person and academic participation in the largest and most exciting global PIBD conference. This will be held at the Hilton Sorrento Palace, Sorrento in Italy from 22nd to 25th October 2025.

This International meeting will provide an extraordinary opportunity to focus on the new insights, the most controversial issues, and the future directions of PIBD pathogenesis and management. This meeting will gather well renowned paediatric gastroenterologists, scientists, nurses, dietitians, surgeons, and all those who care for children and young people with IBD clinically or through research from around the globe.

Several hot topics will be addressed including new nutritional insights, update on epidemiology, disease prediction and prevention, the role of artificial intelligence in the diagnosis and the positioning of new biologics and small molecules. Additionally, specific sessions with challenging clinical cases and basic science lectures will be part of the core programme. According to the tradition of the meeting, there will be 3 different post-graduate courses including basic science, PIBD for industry, and the clinical fundamentals of IBD.

Sorrento, a land of colours and the homeland of Torquato Tasso, is a coastal town of the Amalfitan coast located in front of the Bay of Naples. The scent of orange and citrus groves have enraptured the souls of many famous writers and artists.

We are confident that you will enjoy both, the stimulating clinical and scientific atmosphere amongst the wide range of health care professionals and the amazing beauty of Campania!

We appreciate your support and look forward to seeing you in Sorrento in October 2025.

Yours sincerely

Become a Member

By becoming a member of ESPGHAN you will experience and gain access to a range of benefits including international network of specialists who promote and encourage collaboration and exchange of information within GI-, Hepatology-, Nutrition Committees, working groups and their outcomes.

Subscription to JPGN, the Journal of Pediatric Gastroenterology and Nutrition, receipt of ESPGHAN newsletters, access to the member's area of the ESPGHAN website and discounted registration fees for the ESPGHAN Annual Meeting are among the benefits of ESPGHAN members. According to your professional status you can choose between full, corresponding, trainee, allied-health professional and emeritus membership.

Members must have an active interest in pediatric gastroenterology and/or hepatology or nutrition (PGHN).

Key Activities

ESPGHAN Mission: to promote and protect gastrointestinal health and nutrition in children on a global scale.

ESPGHAN has three standing committees focusing on pediatric Gastroenterology, Hepatology and Nutrition (PGHN), currently hosting 20 working and special interest groups covering the majority of respective fields. All groups are accessible to ESPGHAN members.

Our Allied Health Professional Committee aims to enhance the multidisciplinary approach in PGHN in Europe, while the Young ESPGHAN Committee promotes and supports specialist training and guides trainees towards full membership of ESPGHAN.

We also offer a variety of cutting edge educational activities, ranging from Masterclasses and Summer Schools to online based education, all accessible through minimal registration fees and overseen by the ESPGHAN Education Committee.

About Sorrento

Sorrento, a land of colors and the homeland of Torquato Tasso, is a coastal town of the Sorrento Peninsula located in front of the Bay of Naples. Sorrento has been influenced by different cultures over the centuries. Greeks, Romans, Normans, Aragonese all passed through here, leaving their mark and receiving in return the fruits of a generous nature and the poignant landscapes of one of the most beautiful stretches of coastline in the world. Since the nineteenth century, Sorrento has always been a great tourist attraction dating back to the era of the "Grand Tour" when the European Aristocracy considered it essential to know and understand the Mediterranean.

Hilton Sorrento Palace

An exclusive hotel, Hilton Sorrento Palace showcases bright and modern rooms and suites, outdoor pools (open April to Oct.), an indoor pool (open Nov. to March), and a citrus garden. Executive guests have free access to the Settimo Club Lounge and its terrace and infinity rooftop pool. It also offers a fitness center, two restaurants and multiple outdoor banquet areas.
